COCE Edition Newsletter

June 24, 2015

A bi-weekly newsletter brought to COCE by Shapiro Library’s Faculty Librarians

eLearning Librarian Mary Keany’s Last Day July 10th

A year and a half ago, we were fortunate to fill our new eLearning Librarian position with a dedicated and savvy librarian, Mary Keany (Zickafoose). During her time with us, she expanded and improved our students’ experiences by participating in course design and review, developed relationships with colleagues at COCE, and built resources such as our Shapiro Library YouTube channel.

Mary is moving back to Seattle; her last day with us will be July 10th, 2015. She has done wonderful work while with us and we hope that you will wish her all the best in her future endeavors.

Electronic Resources Faculty Librarian Position Filled

The Shapiro Library has filled the Electronic Resources position, which became vacant when one of our long time librarians retired. We are happy to announce the position filled by Sandy Srivastava who will start on August 3, 2015.

This position is responsible for maintaining access to databases of articles, ebooks, reference materials, and more. She will also be evaluating new resources to be added to our collections to continue to support the research and academic endeavors of our students, staff, and faculty.

Updated Citation Guide

The new Citation Guide has received over 600 page views in one week! The Citation Management Tools page has received over 800 views in one week. Faculty librarians have listened to your suggestions and re-designed the guide to break down into smaller, more manageable guides for APA, MLA, and Chicago, which are all linked from the landing page of the main guide!

Updated Evaluating Sources Guide

The Evaluating Sources Guide has been re-designed and expanded to teach the importance of evaluating all sources, and includes evaluations basics and methods, videos, and a source evaluation rubric. The final changes and launch of new content will occur by June 30, 2015. Point your students to this guide to help them determine the appropriateness of sources from the library and the internet.

Newsletter Access: Delivery and Archive

This newsletter is available every other Wednesday, and is no longer being sent into your direct email account. It will still be accessible three different ways!

You will be able to access it:
Through a link in the COCE bi-weekly update in your email.
In announcements in the mySNHU portal.
In the Library Newsletter Archive.

If you have questions, requests, or corrections, contact Mary Keany (eLearning Librarian/ COCE Liaison) m.zickafoose@snhu.edu
